Explanatory Note:

The revisions suggested in this section are basically technical changes designed to bring the statutes into concordance with current public health epidemiologic thought and terminology.

Any references to gender have been revised. The revision of s.143.02(3) is intended to prevent epidemics by taking prompt action upon the appearance of communicable disease outbreaks. The revision of s.143.02(4) is intended to be consistent with ch. 221, Laws of 1979. The words "jails, asylums, schoolhouses" are no longer used and their current counterparts have been substituted. We find no evidence of a fund created or needed for the prevention and control of Asiatic cholera as referenced under s.143.02(5) and recommend deletion of the reference. The repeal of the penalty under s.143.02(6) reflects a move toward making the penalties for violation of various subsections consistent throughout the chapter. The general penalty for violation of public health laws as contained in this chapter is presented under s.143.11.

Opposition/Support Anticipated:

No opposition is anticipated since the suggested revisions are technical in nature and are intended to update the chapter.

143.03 Duties of local officers health officials. (1) Every local health officer official, upon the appearance of any communicable disease in his or her territory shall immediately investigate all the circumstances, make a full report to his the board and also to the department; he the local health official shall at all times promptly take such measures as are necessary and proper for the prevention, suppression and control of any such communicable disease as he deems needful and proper, subject to the approval of his the board, and shall report to his the board the progress of such diseases and the measures used against them, with such frequency as to keep the board fully informed, or at such intervals as the secretary may direct. The local health officer official shall inspect the schoolhouses schools and other public buildings within his district or her jurisdiction, with sufficient frequency to determine whether such buildings are kept in a sanitary condition.

(2) Local boards of health officials may do what is reasonable and necessary for the prevention and suppression of disease; may forbid public gatherings when deemed necessary to control outbreaks and epidemics; and under direction of the department; ~~shall furnish antitoxin free to indigent persons suffering from communicable disease~~ advise the department of all measures taken.

Explanatory Note:

The revisions suggested in this section are basically technical changes designed to bring the statutes into concordance with current public health epidemiologic thought and terminology. Any references to gender have been revised. Since the department no longer specifically furnishes antitoxin to indigent persons, s.143.03(2) was amended to provide general authority to the local boards of health.

Opposition/Support Anticipated:

There may be opposition to s.143.03(1) on the part of local public health nurses. Under the anticipated amendment of s.141.01(9) the duties of the local health official are to be delegated to a public health nurse under certain circumstances. The nurses may object to having the duty to inspect schools and other public buildings. Since the rest of the revisions are basically technical in nature, little additional opposition is anticipated. General support is expected from health and public health officials for finally providing them with the authority to utilize in their current responsibilities.

143.04 Reports of cases. (1) A physician or health professional knowing or having reason to know that a person treated or visited by him or her has a communicable disease, or having such a communicable disease, has died, shall make a report the same to the local health officer, commissioner, or board official and to the department. ~~In the case of a person having poliomyelitis, the physician shall in addition to the report made to the health officer, send a report immediately to the department, giving the name, address, age and description of disability of such person.~~

(4) Reports under subsections (1) and (2) shall state so far as known the name, sex, age and the residence of the sick person, the disease and such other facts as the department or local board of health official requires. Blank Report forms may be furnished by the department or local board of health and distributed by the local health officer official.

(5) All reports shall be made within 24 hours, unless otherwise specified by the department, either by telephone, telegraph, mail or by leaving at the office or residence of the local health officer official.

(7) When an outbreak or epidemic occurs, the local health officials shall immediately report to the department, and shall at all times keep the department informed upon the prevalence of the communicable diseases in the municipality locality in such manner and with such facts as the department requires.

(8) A list of communicable diseases shall be displayed ~~in a prominent place~~ in each physician's office or clinic and in each health care institution for the treatment of the sick. The list shall be printed on a card and furnished without cost charge by the department.

(9) In diagnosing communicable diseases in patients accepted for treatment, physicians and other practitioners shall use ordinary skill and bacteriological examinations bacteriologic, virologic, mycologic, serologic, or any other pertinent laboratory tests where the same would be of material value in disclosing such which would aid in diagnosing the disease. If there is a dispute regarding diagnosis or if the diagnosis is or may be of potential public health significance, if a bacteriological examination more extensive bacteriologic, virologic, mycologic, serologic, or other pertinent laboratory tests will aid, the local health officer official shall order it then made by the state laboratory of hygiene or an appropriately certified laboratory under s.143.15.

(10) A physician violating sub. (9) and any person violating sub. (1) to (5) shall be fined not less than $5 ~~$25~~ nor more than $100 ~~$500~~, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than 5 nor more than 90 30 days, or both, ~~and~~ or subjected to a forfeiture to the school fund of not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each day ~~shall~~ constitute a separate violation. Upon a 2nd or subsequent conviction of a physician, the medical examining board may suspend his the physician's license for one year.

(11) When violation hereof is reported to him the district attorney by a local health officer official or by the department, the district attorney shall forthwith prosecute the proper action, and upon request of the department, the attorney general shall assist.

Explanatory Note:

Most of the revisions suggested in this section are technical changes designed to bring the statutes into concordance with current public health epidemiologic thought and terminology. Any references to gender have been revised. Under s.143.04(1) the physician may designate some other person to report any notifiable diseases. This amendment would specifically identify the reporting duty of non-physician clinicians (Physicians Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, Nurse Clinicians). Because of the changing patterns of disease incidence it is impractical to single out poliomyelitis as the only disease that must be reported to both the local health official and the department. Amending the section as suggested provides the department with flexibility to respond to the changes in disease incidence patterns. Flexibility is also important regarding what information is to be included in the report. Different diseases require different information for adequate follow-up and control. Certain diseases require prompt investigation and action and must be reported as soon as possible by telephone. Section 143.04(4) is amended to reflect current practice. To provide uniformity, the department designs and furnishes the reporting forms. It is anticipated that reporting and follow-up practices would improve if the local health officials were involved in the distribution of the forms. The local officials are in a better position to encourage reporting of communicable diseases. The amendment of 143.04(5) provides flexibility in reporting procedures. The department is given the authority to specify when diseases are to be reported. Not all diseases need to be reported within 24 hours. For surveillance purposes, some diseases only require a weekly tally of cases. Section 143.04(8) is amended to recognize additional health care facilities likely to encounter communicable diseases. It is felt that the enumeration of various diagnostic laboratory tests in s.143.04(9) stresses the importance of the tests in making early accurate diagnoses. Effective public health control measures could be implemented early, thus preventing unnecessary overutilization of health care services. The revision of the penalties for violation under s.143.04(10) is recommended to make the penalties consistent throughout the chapter. The general penalty for violation of laws contained in this chapter is presented under s.143.11.

Opposition/Support Anticipated:

Physicians may object to the advocated use of non-physician clinicians for reporting diseases since this was, traditionally, the physician's designated function. Physicians should not view this amendment as infringement on their authority, but rather as a way to relieve them of the task of reporting, if they so choose. Support is anticipated from non-physician clinicians regarding this amendment. The remaining revisions are basically technical and serve the purpose of updating the section and are not expected to be controversial. Clearly responsibility to report disease is given to anyone with knowledge of a communicable disease. These changes recognize the evolution of the clinical expertise of various health professional groups and the increased likelihood that these non-physician clinicians would be an initial contact in the health care system.

(6) (a) When the local health officer official deems it necessary that such-afflicted a person be quarantined or otherwise restricted in a separate place, he the official shall remove him the person, if it can be done without danger to his the person's health, to such place, and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the municipality county.

(b) When a person confined in a jail, county asylum or county home correctional facility, mental health institute or other public place of detention has a disease which the local health officer official or the

(7) The expense of maintaining quarantine, including examinations and tests for disease carriers made by or with the consent of the local health officer official, and the enforcement of isolation on the premises, shall be paid for by the city, incorporated village or town upon the order of the local board of health or if none exists upon the order of the local health officer official unless the expense is payable through 3rd party liability or any federal, state, county, municipal, or private benefit systems.

(8) The health officer shall cause to be disinfected, by methods approved by the department, rooms, clothing and premises, and all articles likely to be infected, before allowing their use by persons other than those in isolation and before quarantine is removed, if the disease is a quarantinable one.

If he the person is a legal resident of another municipality of this state, the expense of care shall be paid by such municipality, or by the county where the county system for the care of the poor has been adopted, when a sworn statement of such the expense is sent to the proper officers within 30 days after quarantine.

(11) Anyone without authority interfering with any placard or sign hereunder, or violating this section, shall be fined not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than 5 nor more than 90 days.

Explanatory Note:

Many of the revisions suggested in s.143.05 are technical changes designed to bring the statutes into compliance with current public health epidemiologic thinking and terminology. Any references to gender have been revised.

The practice of placarding is no longer necessary for the control of communicable disease. It is an antiquated procedure which should have been stricken from the statutes and administrative code years ago. References to placarding throughout the section have been deleted. S.143.05(1) is amended to give the local health official the authority to institute the necessary control measures for communicable diseases under the direction of the department. It is impractical for the department to have the sole responsibility for requiring control measures. This change recognizes and encourages the current cooperative joint relationship of the local health officials and the Division of Health. The authority of the local health official to implement control measures is also designated in the amendment of s.143.05(3). The strict control measures described in s.143.05(4) are not necessary for all communicable diseases. The amendment would provide flexibility to the department and the local health officials in the designation of specific diseases and types of cases requiring such measures. The references to "jail, county asylum or county home" are amended to use the current terminology for these facilities. The director of institutional health is given the authority to remove residents from these facilities when necessary for the control of communicable diseases. It is anticipated that the provision of two sources of authority will enable action to be taken promptly. It is suggested that s.143.05(8) be repealed. It is neither appropriate nor necessary to include detailed disinfection procedures in the statutes. The general authority of the local health official for disinfection is provided under s.143.05(1). The specific disinfection measures are more appropriately contained in the Wisconsin Administrative Code, Chapter H 45, Communicable Diseases. The penalties for violation under s.143.05(11) are repealed and the generally applicable penalty is stated under s.143.11.

Many of the changes suggested in s. 143.06 are technical changes designed to, bring the statutes into compliance with current public health epidemiologic thinking and terminology. Any references to gender have been revised. The repeal of s. 143.06(2) is suggested since it is unnecessary to say that persons must obey rules and regulations. The repeal of s.143.06(3) is requested because this subsection is inappropriate for inclusion in the statutes. The procedures regarding disposal of sputum are currently more appropriately specified in the Wisconsin Administrative Code subd. H46.02(2)(a)1. The repeal of s.143.06(8) eliminates duplication in the chapter. The general penalty for violation of public health laws is contained in s.143.11.

Explanatory Note:

The disease incidence patterns have changed substantially since this section was written. To enable this subsection to adapt to changing disease patterns it is more practical to use the generic term "communicable diseases". It is advisable to include the phrase "in a communicable form" for practicality's sake. The rest of the revisions are basically technical changes to correct sexist language and make the penalties for violation as stated under s.143.11 consistent throughout the chapter.

Opposition/Support Anticipated:

No opposition is anticipated since the revisions are basically technical and serve to incorporate flexibility into the statutes.

143.01 Communicable diseases. Such diseases as are in fact communicable, and so determined by the department by rule, shall be within the term "communicable disease", as used in the statutes.

Rules of general application shall be published as provided in ch. 227; but rules or orders may be made for any city, village or town county by service thereof upon the local health officer. Rules or orders hereunder shall supersede conflicting local rules or ordinances.

(5) All public officers and employes shall respect and enforce the rules and regulations made hereunder, and they and persons in charge of correctional facilities, mental health institutions, schools, hotels and all other public buildings, vessels and vehicles conveyances within this section, shall cooperate with the department in carrying out its provisions, and if such cooperation be refused or withheld the department may execute its rules and regulations by agents of its own appointment, and expenses incurred in so doing shall be paid by the county, city, town or village; ~~-except-they-are-incurred-for-the-prevention and-control-of-Asiatic-choleera-and-the-state-has-created-a-fund-for-that-purpose.~~

(7) The department shall have the power to authorize and implement all emergency measures necessary for the control of communicable diseases.

Explanatory Note:

The revisions suggested in this section are basically technical changes designed to bring the statutes into concordance with current public health epidemiologic thought and terminology. Any references to gender have been revised. The revision of s.143.02(3) is intended to prevent epidemics by taking prompt action upon the appearance of communicable disease outbreaks. The revision of s.143.02(4) is intended to be consistent with ch. 221, Laws of 1979. The words "jails, asylums, schoolhouses" are no longer used and their current counterparts have been substituted. We find no evidence of a fund created or needed for the prevention and control of Asiatic cholera as referenced under s.143.02(5) and recommend deletion of the reference. The repeal of the penalty under s.143.02(6) reflects a move toward making the penalties for violation of various subsections consistent throughout the chapter. The general penalty for violation of public health laws as contained in this chapter is presented under s.143.11.

143.03 Definition and duties of local health officers. (1) For the purposes of Ch. 143 the health officer shall be the person so designated under the provisions of s. 141.01(9).

(4 5) No person shall interfere with the examination under this chapter of any place or its occupants by health officials or their assistants, nor with any notice posted under this chapter.

The revisions suggested in this section are basically technical changes designed to bring the statutes into concordance with current public health epidemiologic thought and terminology.  16 laws concerning local health agencies and communicable diseases and 17 granting rule-making authority .

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes various changes to the statutes relating to local health agencies and communicable diseases:

APR 33.

1. Under present law, county health commissions, county health committees, city or village boards of health, town health boards, local health officers and local public health nurses may all exist at once in a single county, with overlapping responsibilities. This bill repeals the authority to create town health boards. The bill requires counties, with certain exceptions, to create either county health commissions or committees. Any county with a county health department, whose entire area is covered by local boards of health or whose population is 500,000 or more is not required to create a county health commission or committee.

2. Present law requires each county health commission to employ a director and specifies certain duties of the director. This bill removes the requirement that a director be employed, substituting a requirement that the commission designate a qualified health professional to act as the local health officer, a public health nurse to conduct general countywide nursing programs and a qualified health professional to conduct certain sanitation and public health programs. Under this bill, the commission assumes the functions of the director and is authorized, but not required, to conduct sanitary inspections of schools and public buildings and perform sanitary surveys.

If a county creates a county health committee, the committee may appoint qualified health professionals or public health nurses, who are given the same powers and duties as a county health commission.

The bill requires any county that must create a county health commission or committee to make an appropriation to fund the operation of the commission or committee. Under present law, the county board is only required to make an appropriation to fund the operation of a committee.

3. The bill updates antiquated statutes concerning communicable diseases. For example, the bill deletes reference to a state fund for the control of Asiatic cholera, because no fund exists.

4. Present law requires physicians to inform the local health officer of the presence of communicable diseases in their patients. This bill extends the requirement to nurses, podiatrists and physical therapists and requires either the local health officer or the licensee to report to the department of health and social services. The bill requires laboratories to report the results of certain tests for disease to the department. The bill allows the department to specify the time period by which reports must be submitted.

5. Present law requires physicians to use bacteriological examinations as needed to diagnose communicable diseases. This bill requires nurses and physicians, podiatrists and physical therapists to use ordinary skill in diagnosing communicable diseases.

6. Present law allows the department to placard places where communicable diseases are present. This bill removes this authority. Present law allows the department to isolate any person infected with a communicable disease. This bill extends this authority to local health officers.

7. Present law requires the local board of health to maintain quarantines by employing guards. The bill shifts this duty to the local health officer. The local health officer can presently remove a person infected with a communicable disease from an institution to protect the health of other residents and place the person in a hospital; this bill authorizes the director of health at the institution also to remove the person.

8. Present law limits the liability of a municipality that destroys private property to eradicate a communicable disease to $100 per family. This bill removes that limitation on liability. The bill specifies that the county or municipality in which an infected person resides is liable for the costs of quarantining and conducting examinations and tests and for the cost of caring for a dependent person who is infected with a communicable disease, unless some other form of 3rd-party liability or benefit system, such as public or private insurance, is available.

9. The bill changes the penalty for violating statutory requirements concerning quarantine. Present law imposes a fine of from $50 to $100 dollars or a term of imprisonment from 5 to 90 days. This bill allows imposition of a fine of up to $500 or a term of imprisonment for up to 30 days or both.

10. The bill expands the statutes that regulate control of venereal disease by allowing control of any sexually transmitted disease. The bill specifies that syphilis, gonorrhea and other diseases the department names by rule are considered sexually transmitted diseases. The bill allows local health officers to investigate the presence of a sexually transmitted disease and to begin commitment proceedings against any person infected with a sexually transmitted disease who refuses or neglects to be examined or treated. Under present law, only a local health officer who is a physician can conduct these investigations and begin commitment proceedings. The bill repeals a requirement that physicians who treat a person with a sexually transmitted disease inform the person of the danger of transmitting the disease and advise against marriage.

Present law allows a court to commit a person infected with a sexually transmitted disease to a public institution. This bill allows commitment to any institution and also allows a court to require the person to undergo a specified system of care for examination, treatment or observation. The bill allows confidential records relating to sexually transmitted diseases to be available at commitment hearings.

The bill repeals a requirement that people applying for marriage licenses be examined for venereal disease. The bill repeals the requirement that any person wishing to marry receive a physician's certificate indicating the person is free of venereal disease.

11. The bill repeals a statute forbidding persons in charge of public places from displaying materials about venereal disease unless the department finds the materials unobjectionable. The bill repeals an enabling act authorizing cities and counties to require that persons convicted of moral turpitude be examined for venereal disease. The bill repeals a statute that prohibits advertising concerning the treatment of sexual and venereal diseases.

12. The bill reduces the penalty for knowingly employing a person who handles food and who has a disease that is communicated by food handling. The bill reduces the term of imprisonment for this act from one year to 30 days.

Present law penalizes a person who is infected with a communicable disease and who wilfully exposes others to the disease by entering a public place or conveyance. Present law also penalizes any other person who assists the infected person or advises the infected person to enter a public place or conveyance. The existing penalty is a fine of from $50 to $100 or imprisonment from 20 to 100 days or both. This bill substitutes a penalty of up to a $500 fine or 30 days' imprisonment or both.

13. Present law requires persons who handle food and work for a traveling show, such as a circus, but do not reside in the municipality where the show is playing to hold a medical certificate which is not more than 6 months' old stating that the person is free of communicable diseases. The bill repeals this requirement.

14. The bill repeals a requirement that the local health officer notify schools and libraries of the names of families where communicable diseases appear. The bill repeals a requirement that library books in a house where a communicable disease is present be thoroughly disinfected or burned.

The bill repeals a provision forbidding parents from sending children with communicable diseases to school. The bill also repeals a provision requiring schools to be disinfected before the beginning of each school year and after any outbreak of a contagious disease. Present law requires the municipality in which the school is located to pay the cost of disinfection.

The bill allows both teachers and principals to send home pupils who may have a communicable disease or any other disease the department specifies by rules. Present law authorizes teachers to send home only habitually dirty, noisome or lousy pupils.

15. The bill repeals specific statutory powers concerning smallpox. Under present law, a local board of health must prohibit unvaccinated pupils from attending school for at least 2 weeks if a smallpox outbreak occurs and must provide free smallpox vaccinations to resident school children.

16. The bill repeals a provision allowing the department to institute procedures that would require any county to pay any person with smallpox up to $30 per month to compensate for the loss of earnings when the person is prevented from working.

17. The bill removes a requirement that the department's fee schedule for the certification of laboratories be graduated. Certified laboratories conduct tests for the detection of communicable diseases.

4.03 LRB ANALYSIS; GENERALLY

(3) Purpose. (a) The purpose of an analysis is to describe the substance and effect of a legislative proposal in a manner that adequately advises the legislature of the legal effect of the proposal. Legislators rely on the analysis of a bill, and courts consult analyses as aids in statutory construction.

4.10 REPEALING AND RECREATING STATUTES. Repealing and recreating makes it difficult to ascertain the nature and extent of changes in the law. However, there are three instances in which repealing and recreating, rather than amending, is appropriate:

(1) When there are so many changes that the text is almost unreadable because of extensive striking and underscoring.

(2) When the legislature intends to supersede a supreme court order.

(3) When an intervening change will affect a provision that has been affected by a delayed change. You may repeal and recreate the provision as of the date of the delayed change if that is necessary because of a conflict between the two treatments. See sec. 4.06 (6), Drafting Manual. Note that a repeal and recreation usually cancels the treatment of a statute by prior act of the same session or a prior session with a delayed effective date.

APP. 6

1 REP. JIM OTT: -- speak
2 specifically about what the sentiment, what it
3 does. I would just like to respond to a couple of
4 points. Number one, as far as the Legislature
5 abdicating authority by passing this bill, again I
6 go back to the last session, just one committee
7 that I happened to be serving on, the Natural
8 Resources Committee. Twice the Department of 9 Natural Resources promulgated rules. They were 10 sent to our committee and no public hearing was 11 held on those rules.

12 I wrote a letter as the ranking
13 minority member on that committee requesting the 14 chairman give those rules a hearing. I never got 15 a response. That sounds an awful lot to me like 16 an agency is making the rules. I think we should
17 always hold a public hearing whenever an agency
18 promulgates a rule, particularly one that's going
19 to have some pretty far-reaching effects. So to 20 make it sound like the situation is perfect right
21 now without this bill, absolutely not.

22 Number 2, as far as the governor
23 having a say on the rules, I would assume what
24 happened last session -- again, in just this one
25 committee and those two instances, I would assume

1 that that was done with the approval of our former
2 governor and yet I don't know, because he didn't
3 have to publicly go on record saying that he
4 approved of what was happening or that he didn't
5 approve of what was happening.

6 Well, if he didn't approve of what
7 was happening, I guess he just allowed the agency
8 to promulgate the rule and, in other words, make
9 law and the Legislature didn't have any oversight
10 over those rules.

11 I go back to the previous session
12 as well when we wanted to hold a public hearing in 13 the Natural Resources Committee, and we did in 14 fact, and we wanted to send the rule back to the 15 agency and then the rule went to the Joint
16 Committee on Administrative Rules, I just sat on 17 it, and the rule became law.

18 In other words, again, the
19 Legislature not showing their oversight. I would
20 point out that in this bill, the Legislature does
21 have the last say, because we do have the last
22 shot at the rule through the Joint Committee of 23 the Review of Administrative Rules.

24 And finally, as far as the venue is
25 concerned, virtually every time you take something

1 to court the venue is in the county or in the
2 district where you live and --

3 THE SPEAKER: Gentleman, could you
4 please hold your remarks. Can the Sergeant Staff
